Buffalo Bayou Partnership

Mission:
Buffalo Bayou Partnership (BBP) is the non-profit organization transforming and revitalizing Buffalo Bayou, Houston’s most significant natural resource. Our organization focuses on planning, park development, hike and bike trail construction, land acquisition and public programming. More information is available at http://buffalobayou.org/about-us/.

Current Student:
This year, Caroline Brigham is working closely with Buffalo Bayou Partnership on an exciting project! Caroline is a junior majoring in Architecture and minoring in Poverty, Justice, and Human Capabilities, Global Health Technologies, Water and Energy, and Sustainability. Caroline is splitting her time between the CRC and Buffalo Bayou Partnership.

Current Project:
Caroline’s skills as an architect student and knowledge from studying inequalities has made her an important asset to the work Buffalo Bayou is currently doing. In the spring of 2016, Caroline has been able to assist BBP with a planning project along Japhet Creek, a tributary that connects Buffalo Bayou into the Fifth Ward. She has reached out to neighborhood residents to secure their input about the project, met with consultants who are working in the Fifth Ward neighborhood and along Buffalo Bayou, and compiled valuable information such as surveys. She is currently developing a plan.
